The Apprentice: Dunn County initiative will allow businesses to apply for assistance on a project and be matched with students from the area high schools and colleges who can assist. Student teams will compete on projects such as marketing, branding, sales, research and development and fundraising. Businesses will “hire,” or recognize, the team with the most appealing proposal. The program will provide students with the opportunity to demonstrate leadership and teamwork skills. Students from Dunn County high schools and colleges will be teamed together along with business and education team co-mentors.
